The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 6-8, 11-13, 15-17 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Piskula.

The cylindrical body portion has flange 14 at its periphery. The knockout is seen at 29, connected to the cylindrical body via web 30. The diameter of 29 is seen to be less than the diameter of the cylindrical body at the outer periphery of 30 where the two are connected. The retainer is seen as the inwardly directed portion 13a of the cylindrical body.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Piskula, as applied supra, in view of Fell.

The Fig. 3 prior art of Fell teaches a knockout being recessed. To employ this expedient in the Piskula device would have been prima facie obvious to the ordinary in order to glean the advantages thereof.

Art Unit: 3751

Claims 5, 10, 14 and 19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
